LONDON, May 31 .- The war is over. Before this news reaches you the Brit-ish flag will be flying over Pretoria. Anything that may happen now is merely a matter of policing and paci-fication. The War Office received no nection. The War Office received no information yesterday as to the movements of Lord Roberts' troops, and at 25 minutes after 1 o'clock this morning it was stated that the authorities had no news for publication. The Daily Mail, therefore, obtained the first inkling of the great news through its correspondent. Earl of Rosslyn, who has been a prisoner at Pretoria. He sent word under date of yesterday that Pretoria would be in the hands of the Brittoria would be in the hands of the Brit-ish in two hours.

President Kruger has left the Transvaal capital as a fugitive, having probably been deposed. He was reported yesterday to be at Watervalboven, a station on the Delagoa Bay Railway, half way between Middleburg and Koomatipoort. The defenders of the forts were ordered by the local committee appointed to preserve the peace to leave their posts. Measures were taken to control the rank and file of the British prisoners by sending to them some of their own officers. All other news important enough in a way sinks into insignificance beside the occupation of the Boer capital. One cannot help being struck by the capacity of Lord Roberts for directing his movements in such a way as to cause a remarkable coincidence in dates. The day chosen for his entry into Johannesburg was the first anniversary of the arrival of Sir Alfred Milner and President Kruger in Bloemfontein for the important conference concerning the points at issue between Great Britain important conference concerning the points at issue between Great Britain and the South African republic, especially those connected with the griev-ances of the outlander population of the city of gold.

This material has not ascended into the air, nor has it gone up in Lord Roberts' balloons, and the English will find it out to their sorrow. I am afrald. Our guns, supplies, etc., have been taken along with our troops, and they will yet be used effectively. If I am not greatly mistaken. The fact that President Kruger has retreated to Watervalboven and that this is declared the capital of our government shows that our people are government shows that our people are still determined to win their independence. Our capital is where our President chooses to move it. The fact that Lord Roberts annexed the Orange Free State the other day, means nothing. The Claudine came in at about five o'clock and on the Inter-Islad line the Kaual, Mikahala, W. G. Hall and Ke Au Hou were in before daylight. The James Makee and Wai-aleale will be in today. All the steamers brought large loads of deck passengers, but only about the usual number of cabin travelers. The deck passengers mostly Japanese swarmed up Fort street by the hundred early this morning.

Monday is to be a holiday generally among the steamship men, but Tues-day's departures are to be made as usuday's departures are to be made as usual. The Wilder Company has a fleet of four steamers on the boards to leave on Tuesday, so that the day will be a busy one. The Kinau and Claudine are to leave at noon and five o'clock respectively on their usual routes, the Mokolii goes at five for Molokal and Lahaina, and the Kilauea Hou at five for Lahaina. Most of the Inter-Island fleet will also be ready for Kaual ports.

CENSUS ON MAUL

Work Commenced Promptly, and Progress is Being Made.

PAIA. Maul. June 8.—On Friday morning last the census takers started out on their rounds and have been hard at it ever since. Very good progress is being made, though in the country districts, with much space between houses it is necessarily more or less slow work. In the plantation camps night work is being done with good results.

Very little opposition or trouble is experienced, most everybody being very commodating in the matter of infor mation. Kula District, with its several hundred small farms, will be the most difficult on Maul to handle. In some localities the whole month will be re-quired to do the work.

HER PROGRAM.

Crown Lands and Suit May be Brought Before Congress Meets,

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—The Call this morning publishes the following Queen Liffulokalani, last of the l Queen Liffulokalani, last of the Hawaiian dynasty, has decided to bring suit against the United States Government for the restoration of her crown lands and her revenues. After waiting patiently through the long sessions of Congress the Queen feels she has given the administration an opportunity to make Just settlement, and that, this being denied her, she has but one course left—to fight for her rights.

Colonel G. W. Macfarlane, confidential adviser of Queen Liliuokalani when seen at the California Hotel last night had the following to say about the de-seen at the California Hotel last night had the following to say about the deposed monarch's contemplated action:

"I returned yesterday from the East on the overland train for a few hours' conference with the Queen, and advised her to consult Joseph O. Carter, her private agent, before bringing suit. A syndicate was formed last winter, which offered to employ the best attorneys in the United States to press her claims, and briefs and other papers for her case have been prepared. "There is nothing to prevent her aspers for her case have been prepared.

"There is nothing to prevent her assigning her claim to the crown lands to whomever she may please, and the case may be tried in foreign courts; but, in any event, it is likely that action will be brought before the next session of Congress is called.

"She is a brave, proud woman, and I admired her pluck when she refused tast winter to be pensioned. She told Senator Foraker that the idea was very distasteful to her, and that she would consider it beneath her dignity to acdistasteful to her, and that she would consider it beneath her dignity to aecept a pension, as she did not come before the country as a pauper and lid not feel that she had ever rendered any services to this Government that would entitle her to a pension. It is my opinion that the Queen is slowly dying of a broken heart, and if this should be her unhappy ending I feel that the treatment of her by this Government will be a blot on the fair name of the United States."
